truthfully called the dirtiest place in It is the oll trade center and is decidedly not beautiful. In the main street all the houses have been built on mine refuse, and most of them have sunk below the level of the street. In fact, there is not a solid brick or stone building in the whole of the town, and many of the houses are in a state of partial or entire collapse. Unrefined perfoleum is everywhere. It gets into everything-food and clothing-and the atmosphere reeks of it. Along one side of the main street is a raised wooden pavement, and beneath it is an oily ditch. Boryslaw's main waterway is a narrow, sluggish, oily stream. On its banks the town's refuse is cast, and the market booths are erected alongside, while the local washerwomenthough from external appearances one

"You should have known better than that," he said. "Do you remember that last piece of net I tried to match for you? You scolded because there was a difference of an eighth of an inch in the width of the folds, and I vowed that I would never again return from matching anything for you until I had

"It is a little too dark," she said. "But the sample has faded some ir ten years," he reminded her.

"It is a little too heavy besides." "But handling by thousands of clerks has worn the sample away some. It was heavier when I started out." "I suppose I can make it do," she said.-Newark News.

Her Dime.

Somebody had given the east side voman a bad dime. It was composed largely of lead. She tried to pass it at several places, but they are wary for some reason or other on the east side. They invariably ring a dime on the counter once or twice and bite it besides. When she got home with the dime it had several holes in it from the pressure of east side teeth. "It is more impossible than ever," she said. The impecualous man called that evening. He bad a dollar with him which was wholly intact-that is to say, it had not been broken,

"I am afraid they'll give me bad money for it," he said upon taking his departure, "over here in these east side cars. Will you change it for me?"

"I shall be delighted," said she. He called a week later with a Convincing the Waiter.

"I have learned how to make the foreign waiters in the restaurants rope half a lifetime," said a woman who never dines at home. "I dawdle over my dinner twice as long as anybody else in the place. It requires no effort for me to do that. By nature I eat in the same leisurely manner that I do everything else. Most of my compatriots bolt their food. As a consequence the foreign waiters who are used to leisurely dining regard them with amazed horror.

"'Ah, those Americans! they exclaim. 'Some day they choke. But as for madame'-meaning me-'well, madame is different. Madame nibbles, she sips, she lingers; therefore she is not as those of common American clay. It takes madame never less than two hours to eat her dinner. That marks her as one of the European elect."-New York Globe.

Some Odd Spelling.

Americans, says the London News, employ the word "Britisher," which they invented, in a contemptuous sense, It was a certain Philadelphia wit who is said to have asked his friends what a "Britisher" would mean to convey of the jungle-London Strand. by the written word "ghoughphtheightteeau." He had to explain to them that, according to the genius of the English language, it meant "potato." Thus; Gh-p, as in "hiccough;" ougho, as in "dough;" phth-t, as in "phthisis;" eigh-a, as in "neighbor;" tte-t. as in "gazette,"/ and eau-o, as in "beau." This was at least as puzzling as the livery stable keeper's bill which | the funeral train into the church. Excontained the two lines-

Nobody who does not "know the answer" has ever yet arrived at the solution, which is, in the vernacular of the creditor himself, "A 'oss 'alf a day" and "A-takin' on 'im 'ome ag'in.'

Unappreciated Efforts.

Unselfish goodness is seldom apprestated in this world of ours. There was that man in the electric car, for gates. "Lich gate" is derived from instance. Having rung up three fares in his efforts to stop the car for the lady that sat on the opposite side, he tossed after her the umbrella that belonged to the little gray whiskered man on his right. Neither the gray whiskered man nor the conductor liked the thoughtful Samaritan for his altruistic efforts.-Boston Transcript.

There Are Better Seats. "He is now, they say, on the very pinuacle of fame, and yet he isn't exactly in comfortable circumstances." "That's not surprising. Did you ever sit on a pinnacle of any sort?"-Brooklyn Citizen.

These three illustrations show our New Adjustable Collar Overcoat. Wear it three ways. With collar turned up (like large illustration) it is just the thing for sport and business in cold or stormy weather. With collar and lapels open (like two small illustrations) it is suitable for moderate weather. Sleeve bands can be adjusted to close sleeves around wrist in stormy or windy weather. Very stylish, very practical. Not an ulsterbut can be adjusted in a second to give the service of an ulster. You can have this adjustable collar on any style overcoat you wish. But remember, these adjustments must be measured and fitted to your own neck, your own shoulders - your own wrists. Hypnotic Power In Animals.

An interesting instance of the hypnotic power possessed by a good many animals is given by a correspondent of the Glasgow Herald. One morning outside Eigin a blackbird was observed to be standing by the roadside, paying no heed to the footsteps of the passerby. It was gazing fixedly at four young weasels under the hedge, which were approaching in a semicircle, apparently to surround it.

Just then a warning cry was heard from behind, uttered presumably by the parent weasel, and the young ones disappeared in the bedge. The bird still remained powerless and immovable, and only after repeated urging did it fly to a tree near by, when it gave forth a weak, frightened sound, as

The store-sales to-day that are uninfluenced, directly or indirectly, by store-advertising will not have amounted to ten per cent, of the total business of the day. By the direct influence of advertising is meant the sales of articles specifically advertised. By the indirect influence of advertising is meant the articles sold that are not specifically advertised, but are displayed to the customers who are drawn to the store BY THE ADVERTISED ARTICLES. In the latter case, as surely as in the first, the advertising must be credited with the sale.

Observant merchants know that this is true. They should gain courage from the knowledge to strengthen their advertising campaigns to the point of matching their store-hopes and plans.
